A Sticky Situation

Introducing the no-spill prill from Scotts® – new Osmocote® PRO with Fusion Technology™. When watered in, Osmocote PRO Fusion binds the prills to the growing media, reducing product spillage should pots fall over leading to meaningful benefits for growers:

- Lower fertilizer and labor costs – product reapplication is minimized
- Consistent plant nutrition – product stays in the pot
- Minimal environmental impact – less chance of spillage into nearby water or soil

Why can herbicides fail?

REASON	EXPLANATION
IMPROPER APPLICATION	Inconsistent or inattentive application may result in weed breakthrough.
WRONG RATE	Use the correct rate based on the toughest weeds you are targeting.
WRONG PRODUCT	Herbicides have strengths and weaknesses. Choose wisely!
NO CALIBRATION	For proper control, you must apply the correct amount of product in a given area.
NO INCORPORATION	Many products require watering-in to stabilize the treatment.
OVERWATERING	The life of the treatment can be directly affected by the amount of water the crop receives.
DISTURBING THE SOIL	Many herbicides create a physical barrier on the surface of the soil. Disturbed soil means weeds can take hold.
WRONG PURPOSE	Pre-emergent herbicides don't control existing weeds!
DIDN'T READ LABEL	The product label has details on proper use. Be sure and read it.
